

Basic chef training for jobseekers starting soon

To meet the current opportunities, a basic chef course will commence in Roscommon by the end of September. This is a part time programme open to people who are minimum of 12 months unemployed in receipt of social welfare. Venue to be confirmed based on where the level of interest is in the County. Topics include food hygiene, basic cooking kitchen skills, HAACP, health and safety and communication skills. There is a work experience aspect to the course enhancing employment skills. Limited places are available therefore short listing may apply. To registering or for more information call Teresa in Roscommon LEADER Partnership Company on 086 0291215, email teresa@ridc.ie.
